

WINTON E. BARKER,

The "nerve center" of soccer activity in St. Louis. Few men in the United States have shown the devotion to soccer and the enterprise in its development that have been the distinguishing marks of Mr. Barker's association with the game.