

Soccer in Colorado

Both school and senior soccer is rapidly forging to the fore in Colorado, and particularly in Denver. The Colorado Soccer Association is functioning well, and the 1923-24 season holds unusual promise from every standpoint.

John H. Love, former International association football coach to the Brussels (Belgium) F.C.; Princeton University, Official Coach U.S.A. Service, and Captain of the Denver Yanks F.C., Colorado League 1922-23, has introduced soccer in the Denver public schools with considerable success during the past three seasons. A league was formed comprising six teams—Mitchell School in 1922-23 winning the championship—a pennant and medals being presented by the Colorado Soccer Association.

The game has been put on a firm footing and has proved to be very popular and beneficial among the boys. Mr. Love has coached all the teams. This season promises to be more successful from a school soccer viewpoint than any of its recent predecessors. Eight schools will participate in the Denver Public Schools League play.
