

tralia League soccer team, also the Corinthians, should they come here.

The public schools of Salt Lake City, Ogden and Eureka are playing the game, and next fall an inter-city game may be arranged between all-star teams of these cities. The young Utah boys are certainly displaying marked efficiency in the game, and by the time these public school boys work their way up through the high schools, colleges and universities of the State, Utah will be able to put a team in the field second to none in the U. S. A. or Canada. This is not written in a boastful spirit, but is the deduction of those who have played in some of the very best soccer teams in England and Scotland.

The University of Utah coach, Mr. Fred Bennion, a star of the first magnitude in American Rugby foot ball, and an athlete every inch, has taken a keen interest in the development of soccer and intends to instruct the high school coaches of the State at the summer semester of the Utah University in Salt Lake City.

Altogether, the outlook is more than encouraging, and great credit is due to the Eureka, Salt Lake and Garfield clubs for the support and boosting the soccer code has had of late in Utah.
