The season of 1905-06 was the most successful in the history of the league. Many of the clubs either failed to act in accordance with the constitution and by-laws, or misinterpreted their meaning, thereby causing many postponed games, either through non-appearance of the official referee or a failure to agree upon some official selected just before the games. As a result many postponed games were played late in the spring of 1906, which resulted in many of the clubs forfeiting games. Had the schedule been taken up at the proper time a great
