

Utah Soccer Football Union

BY WILLIAM SERVICE, VICE-PRESIDENT.

Last season was the most successful in the history of the game in Utah, as demonstrated by the increased interest and greater number of matches played. The fall league contests resulted in Salt Lake coming back and winning the championship, after previously taking the spring league title without the loss of a game, thus duplicating the feat of Ogden two years ago. They did not have a walk-over, most of the games being well-contested. The Caledonians were looked upon as possible winners, inasmuch as they had captured the State blue ribbon last year from the strong and hitherto undefeated Ogden team. Hollandia also showed up well, and is fast reaching the stage where it is becoming a strong contender for the highest honors. The Rangers, an offshoot from Salt Lake, but now operating independently, look like a strong aggregation. Altogether the Union officials are much encouraged. An eight-team league, or two four-team divisions, will be run for the Schubach Cup. New players of worth are being discovered all the time, and as the junior high schools are playing under league auspices, some native talent is assured; in fact, Salt Lake and Rangers are now using some native-born boys who are playing the game remarkably well. The assistance given in this connection by William E. Day, the physical director of the Salt Lake City public schools, is exceedingly valuable.
