

with ease and passed to Fleming, whose shot was saved by a full-back kicking it dead. On the in-cast, Fleming passed to Brown, who turned it toward the crowded goal. Heminsley caught the ball and sent it into the goal and through the net.

Orgryte forced the pace at the restart, but the forward line fell down repeatedly after working the attack right up to the goal. Tintle was everywhere. It was similar with the Americans, many well-earned opportunities crumbling away before the net. Both sets of full-backs did valiant service and the play was fairly even throughout the scoreless period. The line-up:

BETHLEHEM DEFEATS NORRKOPING.

The eleventh game Bethlehem won by 2 goals to 0 on September 14, in the stadium at Norrkoping, before 3,000 persons. The Norrkoping team was the vanquished opponent.

The Swedes pressed for a time after the kick-off, but after fine blocking by Ferguson, Fleming carried the ball down the wing and took a shot from far out when a centering would have netted a goal. His drive went straight at the goalkeeper. The Bethlehem forwards executed several fine combinations, several being saved just on the line by the home defense, the goalkeeper having the heavy end of the task. Fleming had a fine opportunity, the goalie just saving, turning the ball beyond the upright with his finger-tips for a corner. Heminsley just missed off a splendid pass by Brown. The Swedes attacked, Kling driving wide on a wide-open chance. At the end of the half the Bethlehems were forcing the pace, but the period was scoreless.

Splendid combination play by the visitors opened the second half, passing by Fleming and Brown being particularly meritorious. After nineteen minutes
